Following dinner, the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were read by the secretary, Rosalind Clark. It was noted, with appreciation, that a generous number had paid dues and/or given contributions to help cover expenses.

Two Wingate 60-year class members, Clyde Jones and Chester Hutchison, answered roll call. Three members of the New Richmond 50-year class attended and the 50-year class of Wingate was represented by eight graduates. Thirteen Coal Creek Central graduates from the 25-year class were present.

Kelsey presented the first annual "Special Teacher" recognition plaque to Patrick McDowell, Coal Creek Central's first head football coach. Mrs. McDowell joined her husband to share his honor.

Kelsey read a very special tribute to the former coach composed by Patrick Cunningham, who was unable to attend the banquet.

Mrs. McDowell was presented a floral arrangement by the group. The couple received a standing ovation.

It was announced the pictures and trophies from the Wingate and Coal Creek Central schools were being kept in their cases at the Kountry Kitchen Antique Shop at Wingate.

The New Richmond trophies will be displayed at a designated place to be announced later. Roger Newnum was responsible for seeing to it that these treasures were kept for all to see.

Frances Beardseely reminded the group the Wingate High School alumni meeting is scheduled for Aug. 10 in New Hope Chapel at Wingate with a noon luncheon catered by Doris Remley.

The 45th annual Coal Creek Alumni Banquet was held at North Montgomery High School on June 20, 1998 with 108 alumni and guests.

President, Mike Oppy called the meeting to order by welcoming the Alumni and telling them to remove their coats and jackets as the air conditioner was malfunctioning.

The invocation was given by John Bean.

A wonderful meal was served to the Alumni by Sue Oppy and Cathy Olin.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Mike Oppy.

Rosalind Goff Clark gave a memorial to alumni that have gone on. Titled "Special Persons in Life"- A time for all things, a time to die, a time to live--.

Introduction of the classes 60 years plus, 50 years, 40 years, & 30 years was made.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Frances Beardsley.

The treasurer's report was given by Rosalind Clark.

Special recognition to Alma Rogers was given. A plaque was presented by Rosalind Clark. Mrs. Rogers made a plea to the alumni to read to their children and grandchildren. She suggested buying books for Christmas and birthdays to encourage interest in reading. Mrs. Rogers told of her experiences teaching at Jackson Heights, Linden and Coal Creek Central. She also reminisced about raising her family and teaching. Her children had different memories of that time. -Something about "Goody Max".

Letters that were read are as follows:

Marilyn Bridge Brown from Arkansas wrote about a memorial to be given in honor of Wilma Yates, to the Girl Scout Syamore Camp. Envelopes were available for contributions.

Another letter that was read was from Richard Lane in Renton, Washington. Richard had meant to give this tribute to his teachers at New Richmond last year but failed to hear the call for any more speeches. He told of how well many of the students did when they went out into the world of work and education. How the teachers all had the students welfare as top priority. Richard felt that recognition of all ~~the~~ teachers from our schools should be given high marks for time and effort to lead their students on to a better and successful life.

Some more prizes were given out. Phil Allhands come 2400 miles from Oregon. The oldest graduate was Margaret Cowan Booher, Oldest Basketball player, Richard Nesbit-his remark was "that he was old enough not to worry about dying young." and last but not least Peggy Lyon Fyffe was the youngest one to graduate from New Richmond.

The return mail was placed on the registry table to enable each person to check out the names and addresses of class-mates and family that were returned. This is a never-ending ordeal to track each return. If you know somebody that has moved or didn't get a letter. Please contact one of the officers and give them a hand.

The center-peices were given to the people who had flags on their programs. The group voted to keep the Alumni ^{on} the Saturday night before Father's Day.

Mike Oppy closed the meeting by telling the group that Rosalind Clark would be the President next year.

ANNUAL COAL CREEK ALUMNI BANQUET

June 17, 2000.

The annual Alumni Banquet was held at North Montgomery High School with alumni and guests attending.

President Dick Hillenburg called the meeting to order, welcoming the alumni.

The invocation was given by Ed McNeil.

A delicious and bountiful buffet meal was served and prepared by Sue Oppy and Cathy Olin with the assistance of family members.

When the meeting was brought to order after our meal, the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Bob Watts.

The memorial to our departed classmates was given by Joan Lohorn.

Introduction of Classes was conducted by the President, recognizing the 1940, 1950, 1960 and 1970 classes. Other alumni had an opportunity to be recognized by the roving microphone. The president then invited the oldest member and former teacher, Frank Allhands 9 years young, to give a brief message. He told of how Wingate used to be a thriving town of several establishments in 1913. And he gave a few comments about the excuses used by parents as to why their children did not attend school that day.

The Secretary's report was given by Roberta Wagner Thayer.

The president asked for comments about going back to the Holiday Inn for our meeting, but would have to be in July as June as already filled. There was little response, so the alumni will remain at North Montgomery High School.

He gave a treasurers report:

Norminations were open for 2001 officers but being none the present ones will continue for another year with the exception of the Vice President and Treasurer; however, Joan Oppy agreed to the Treasurer's position.

Instead of the usual gifts certificates being given, the president announced the money would be donated to the WWII Memorial Fund.

Thanks were extended to the caterer's and the bountiful food that was served. The meeting was adjourned at 9:15,

Respectfully submitted,

Roberta Wagner Thayer,
Secretary
